

$80. St. Pierre captured a George Wilson.

Coroner's jury will investigate death of Walter C. Snell of Boston, found shot dead in Planters' hotel last Saturday.

William H. Bishop, 36, of Wyoming, Ill., brought to Chicago charged with forgeries aggregating $5,000.

Rev. Hiram Brown and wife missing. He was pastor of First Congregational church of Maywood.

Chicago deaf yesterday celebrated bicentenary of birth of Abbe de l'Epee, inventor of sign language.

Mrs. Louise Vermilya, who was tried for murder, by poison, of Robert T. Smith, her fiance, has been discharged from county hospital.

Annual mask carnival of Brotherhood of Stationery Firemen to be held Wednesday evening, East End hall, Clark and Erie sts.

Two thousand members of United Irish Societies of Chicago voted unanimously to erect statue to memory of Col. John F. Finerty.

William O'Brien, 19, 1236 East 46th st., known as "Quick Change Bill," arrested, charged with recent South Side hold-ups.

One hundred divorces a day are not too many according to Attorney Jacob LeBosky, in address to the Chicago Fellowship club.

Arthur Beal, 20, 2748 South Spaulding ave., accidentally shot and killed while hunting near Joliet.

COP MAKES PINCH—THEN PLAYS JUDGE

It is not every ordinary copper who gets a chance to shine as a member of the judiciary. In fact, there is only one instance in Chicago history where a brass-buttoned officer of the law ever made a pinch and then had the satisfaction of mounting the bench and handing out his idea of justice to the defendant. It happened today at the South Clark st. court like this:

Officer John Childs last night arrested Alice Lalasca, a 19-year-old colored girl, at State and 22d st. The officer said he did not like the "way she was flirting with everyone."

"This morning Alice pleaded with Judge Himes for another chance.

His Honor turned to the respectful copper and asked him if he would mind hearing the case.

Childs gasped, coughed, blushed, stammered. Judge Himes stepped from his seat and motioned the "new judge" to take the place.

Recovering his composure the elated officer beamed benignantly on the prisoner, offered a little lecture and said:

"Discharged."

Washington society is all a quiver because Woodrow Wilson has three marriageable daughters. Great Caesar, what luck! Just think of having three unmarried marriageable daughters and being elevated to the top notch of Washington society!